OUR SECOND APPROPRIATION.

Just as it was the destiny of the republic to save this country from political corruption and degradation in 1861, so it fell to the lot in 1888 to save the country from industrial disaster and economic ruin. Political supremacy was attacked then. Industrial supremacy is attacked now. Some have pointed out that both enemies were the same, and it must be said that there is a remarkable similarity in the method of attack, but of that pass.

It is enough to know that the republic can party saved the nation once, and that it can do it again.

It is said that God helps those who help themselves. The republicans were certainly as active twenty-eight years ago as they are to-day. At that time there came forward from wherever came they—yea, from the patrons of Lincoln, of Sherman, of Sheridan, of Thomas, Meade, Garfield, Grant—there are a host of them, and they saved for us and for the world political union in America.

When industrial supremacy, commercial freedom and workingmen's home are attacked—never mind by whom—there again come forward a worthy champion—selected by what providential direction?—under which the army of defense could fight shoulder to shoulder without the clashing of a single interest, and achieved a victory no less renowned than that of civil war.

You all know the name of this leader. He has now been in command for months. He has had marching behind a grand army—not of soldiers, but of artisans who think, who save, who read, who observe, who fight as well as they thought, and who charge an enemy who attacks their wages as vigorously as they did an enemy who attacked their homes.

This army of thinking artisans lacked only a leader. This leader they found in General Harrison. They organized under his banner with simply a sense of their own duty, satisfied that their commander was available. They regarded that paramount to any other thought. But they began to admire their leader. The more they saw and knew of him, the better they liked him. They marched farther and more carefully observed the generalship of their commander. Then it was that the proportions of his comprehensive mind, his steady honesty, his splendid character, dawned upon them, and they loved him. They gloried in the principles for which he stood.

It is a wonder that victory is ahead of them? They helped themselves and the promise was kept that they should be helped. In these last weeks of this eventful struggle, General Harrison approaches the second Appropriation in our history without fear and without reproach. Wise, steadfast, forceful—and a gentleman.

TRUE AND BRAVE WORDS.

Stephen A. Douglas addressed the traveling men in Chicago yesterday, and in closing his speech said:

"There seems to be much curiosity to know why a man of my name and lineage should be a republican. I am a republican for no other reason than because my name is Douglas and because I am a son of Stephen A. Douglas. The south to-day controls the democracy and the south always fought Mr. Douglas. In 1858 the Buchanan democracy ran a boisterous lecture in every corner in the state where they could muster up enough men to make up a ticket for the purpose of defeating Mr. Douglas for re-election to the senate and electing Abraham Lincoln in his place. In 1860, rather than permit Mr. Douglas to be president, the South bolted the Charleston convention, disrupted the party, and gave up the postoffice, and when hatred of a man will induce a people to give up a postoffice, great Scott, how must they hate him! [Cheers.] If it were not for the man who to-day controls the democracy party, the Mayhews, Lamars, Garlands, and their northern henchmen, Mr. Douglas would have been elected president of the United States in 1860. Just how much do I owe him now owe the democracy party? There has never been a democratic ticket since 1860 that Mr. Douglas or Andrew Jackson could vote for. In 1861, when Mr. Lincoln was first inaugurated, Mr. Douglas, you may remember, held through to the end the oath of office. Generally speaking, he was not a hat-holder for anybody, but he held Lincoln's hat to show that he would hold up Lincoln's hand and aid him in any way he could. You old men will remember that twenty years ago the state of Illinois was deeply in debt and Lyman Trumbull sought to repudiate it, declaring it could never be paid. Mr. Douglas replied tersely, though probably that they should never repudiate it if they never paid a cent of it."

"I swear I never will vote the democratic ticket until in every southern state there is a man as true as far as a cent as my father made it his business to see was given to the people of Kansas."

There seems to be but one candidate running for governor in this state, and that is Mr. Hoard.

Mr. Cleveland will be his own barometer.

The Jute Industry Knocked Out.

New York, Oct. 25.—A dispatch from Salem says that the jute industry here has been abandoned, and that in consequence 500 employees will be thrown out of work. This action is due to the success of the pine-straw burning industry recently introduced in the South, and the cotton baling trust is considered of no importance.

Father and Daughter Love Their Lives.

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 25.—About 4 o'clock a. m. Charles Nigamower, aged 48 years, a furniture dealer, and his daughter, Gertrude, aged 12 years, were burned to death in their home. The father went upstairs to get out his daughter, but did not come back. Their dead bodies were found after the flames had been extinguished.

Married at the Age of 107 Years.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25.—David Crack, said to be 107 years old, was married Tuesday at Marlboro, Prince George's County, to Susanna Oaks, a widow of 73, by Rev. Joseph Kunnane, pastor of the St. Mary's Catholic Church. Crack says he is a veteran of the war of 1812.

Germany Will Not Take Part.

London, Oct. 25.—The Standard's Berlin dispatch says the Government has declined to share with England a part in a relief expedition for the rescue of Benin. It is on the ground that Dr. Benin is no longer a German subject.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing the Backache Smart Weed and Belladonna balm.

ALMOST PENILESS.

The Full Force of Axworthy's Ortimo Now Felt in Cleveland.

THE CITY ALMOST BANKRUPT.

Belief That It is Also Responsible for Bonds to the Extent of $175,000 Recently Mortgaged in Boston—The Recently Official in Canada.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 25.—There is about $150,000 belonging to the city deposited in a bank in Boston, but the bonds of Thomas Axworthy, the defaulting treasurer, have attached it, and the result is that the city is bankrupt. Axworthy, a member of the Council, has been placed in charge of the office, and will continue to act as treasurer until Axworthy's successor is elected. At present there is only $300 in the city's vaults, and when that is paid out the treasurer's office will be closed for financial repairs.

A meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last night and the office of the city treasurer declared vacant. The mayor was authorized by a resolution to issue notes of the city to the amount of $300,000 if necessary, to tide over the temporary financial stringency. The action of this board will not have to be carried out at the meeting of the council Friday night, before its legislation can go into effect.

A. H. Conkey, Axworthy's confidential business manager, has just returned from New York, where he went to investigate the matter. His theory is that Axworthy went to New York with securities on which he hoped to realize in order to settle with the city. Failing to get the money he needed, he went to Canada rather than return to Cleveland and face his shortage like a man. Mr. Conkey declares positively that Axworthy was not a speculator, as has been asserted. He saw Axworthy's correspondence, and he knows that the latter lost no money on what.

It is feared that Cleveland will also lose $100,000 of bonds negotiated by Axworthy in Boston about September 25.

MONTHLY, Oct. 25.—It is stated that Axworthy, the defaulting Cleveland city treasurer, left New York for Liverpool, the steamship Polytechnic, for Liverpool, and this statement is correct. He will be captured at Quebec as the boat calls there, and instructions have been sent to the authorities not to miss him.

BLAINE IN NEW YORK.

He Visits Central Park During the Day and Reviews a Parade at Night.

New York, Oct. 25.—After resting awhile yesterday at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Mr. Blaine left his son Walker with him, and he left for Central Park, returning to his hotel at 10 o'clock. Mr. Blaine received a few friends, among them ex-Senator Thomas Platt, Fred Grant, Judge Gooding and several other prominent politicians. After dinner Mr. Blaine went to Republican headquarters at Fifth Avenue and Eighteenth Street, and from there he reviewed a procession of about 5,000 men, gotten up on short notice by John O'Brien and known as the O'Brien Legion. The parade was handsomely uniformed and carried torches and banners. Mr. Blaine seemed much pleased by this impromptu demonstration. Standing beside him were Chairman Quay, ex-Governor Platt and Walker Blaine. A crowd of 5,000 people gathered and cheered Mr. Blaine. After the procession had passed, they called for a speech. Mr. Blaine bowed and stopped back into the house, where he received a number of prominent Republicans and several ladies. After the crowd had disappeared Mr. Blaine walked back to the Fifth Avenue Hotel and soon retired. To-night Mr. Blaine addresses an Irish-American meeting at Madison Square Garden.

AGAIN TIED-UP.

Another Big Strike on the Street-Car Lines in Brooklyn.

New York, Oct. 25.—At midnight a tie-up was ordered by District Assembly 70 on all the lines operated by the Cross-Town Railroad Company of Brooklyn. Committee have for a year been trying to bring about a settlement of disputes on this line. The trouble is a revival of the wrangle which brought about the tie-up of last August. It is about the discharge of certain employees by Superintendent Sullivan. There are more than 400 employees and conductors on the cross-town line and its branches. At the time of the tie-up, in August, it was said that the settlement by young Mr. Sloan was only a truce to await the arrival of his father, General Sloan, from Europe. Since his arrival the Executive Board has repeatedly tried to settle the grievances of the men, but has failed.

Thurman Visits Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25.—Hon. Allen G. Thurman arrived here last evening and was met at the Central passenger station by a committee of prominent local Democrats and escorted to the Grand Hotel, followed by a large crowd, among them Hon. John G. Carlisle. The Judge returned early. He will review the Democratic parade this afternoon from a stand erected in Washington Park. At 6 o'clock he will deliver a fifteen-minute speech in Music Hall, and will be introduced by Hon. W. S. Groesbeck. At the conclusion of Judge Thurman's speech Mr. Carlisle will address the audience in a speech of thirty minutes' duration.

The Boston & Albany Road.

Boston, Oct. 25.—The annual report of the Boston & Albany railroad for the year ending September 30 shows total gross receipts of $3,823,064, decrease, $43,081; expenses, $2,471,954, decrease, $5,300; net receipts, $1,351,110, decrease, $14,381. The report says that some of the loss of revenue may be due to the discussion of the tariff in Congress, causing some hesitation in business circles, but the loss comes chiefly from the demoralization in rates on Western tariffs.

To Secure a Big Mortgage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The Southern Pacific Company has filed a deed of trust to the Central Trust Company of New York, to secure payment of a $3,000,000 mortgage on all the property of its railroad and branch roads, have turned over all their property to the company and the latter assumes all their debts, and the mortgage is to provide for payment of these debts. The bonds will be secured by a sinking fund and $20,000 a year will be paid out of net income to the sinking fund.

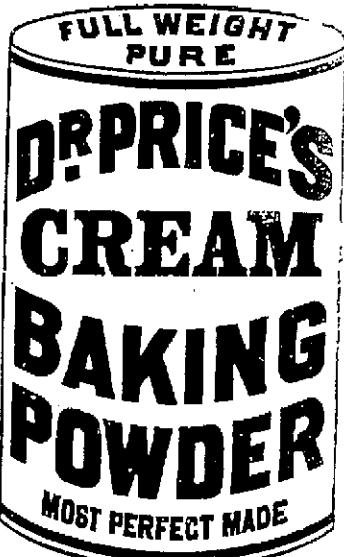

Not Heard of in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—There is no knowledge at the War Department of any outbreak among the Crowa, as reported in press dispatches, or of any troubles with the Indians whatever.

Take it in Time.
